

A Thought Upon Death

“And when beneath the church’s shade, my lifeless body hath been laid. Let no one think of me in pain; to live is Christ, to die is gain” (Phil. 1:21).

Note: This was found among some research of my family history. Written by a lady in 1901, 70 years prior to her decease.

Donald E. Martin, Sr.
2017